MARCH 2010

As we continue our journey through the Lenten season, I would remind all of us that this is not a sad season. However, it is a somber season. It is somber because the focus of this season is upon the sacrificial, costly love of God which led to the death of Jesus Christ on the Cross for the sins of the world.

In the Guinness Book of World Records, mention is made of an Episcopal priest in Michigan who stood before his congregation one Sunday morning and preached the shortest sermon on record. He stood up and said one word---LOVE---and then he sat down. That was his sermon.

When Jesus Christ was dying on the Cross, God could have written that word, "Love," on the cross. That word, better than any other word in the English language, describes the meaning of the Cross. Apart from God's love, the Cross does not have a whole lot of meaning. Apart from God's love, the death of Christ is an incredibly tragic event.

The love of God which was demonstrated on the Cross was not a cheap or superficial kind of love. It was a costly, sacrificial kind of love. It cost God His only Son. God loved the world so much that He sacrificed His only Son for the salvation of the world.

There was a popular monk in the Middle Ages who announced that he would preach one evening on the love of God. On the day designated, the cathedral was filled with eager listeners waiting to hear the monk's sermon on the love of God.

Before beginning the service, the monk waited for the sun to set. He wanted the cathedral to be in darkness, except for one lighted candle. When the sun had set and darkness had come over the cathedral, the monk took the lighted candle, and walked to a statue of Christ hanging on the Cross. The monk then held the candle beside the wounded hands of Christ for a few minutes, then he moved the candle to the wounded feet of Christ, then to the open side, and finally he moved the candle to the brow of Christ which had worn the crown of thorns. That was the sermon. There were no words spoken.

The great crowd of worshippers, deeply moved, sat still. They had come to hear a sermon on the love of God. They did not receive what they had expected. But they had in fact received a sermon on the love of God as the lighted candle had illumined the wounds of Christ for all to see. It was said that those people never forget that unique sermon on the love of God.

As we continue our journey through the season of Lent, may we keep our focus upon the love of God which was unmistakably revealed in the death of Jesus Christ upon the Cross. In the words of Isaac Watts' hymn, "When I Survey The Wondrous Cross":

"See from His hands, His head, His feet,
Sorrow and love flow mingled down;
Did e'er such love and sorrow meet,
Or thorns compose so rich a crown."

Your pastor,

Douglas M. Mankell

WORDS FROM JESSICA WIETZKE...

Greetings in Christ!

A huge thank you to those who helped to re-vamp & paint my office, particularly Malcolm Bainbridge, Helen Forgey, Barb Goltry, and Dave Holland. My office is now painted blue (the official color is 'heavenly skies'). So please stop by & take a look. Confirmation starts March 7th (even if you haven't registered, please come). Our VBS has been scheduled for the week of June 14th-18th and our mission trip (which will be in the Logansport area) has been tentatively set for June 21-25.

As we approach Lent, I've found this poem to be a meaningful meditation. It was written by Rev. Richard Fairchild and found at <http://www.spirit-net.ca/sermons/c-ashwed.php>.

Fast from worry, and feast on divine order by trusting in God.
Fast from complaining, and feast on appreciation.
Fast from negatives, and feast on affirmatives.
Fast from unrelenting pressures, and feast on unceasing prayer.
Fast from hostility, and feast on tenderness.
Fast from bitterness, and feast on forgiveness.
Fast from self-centeredness, and feast on compassion for others.
Fast from idle gossip, and feast on purposeful silence.
Fast from judging others, and feast on the Christ within them.
Fast from words that pollute, and feast on the phrases that purify.
Fast from discontent, and feast on gratitude.
Fast from anger, and feast on optimism.
Fast from personal anxiety, and feast on eternal truth.
Fast from discouragement, and feast on hope.
Fast from thoughts that weaken, and feast on promises that inspire.
Fast from problems that overwhelm, and feast on prayer that undergirds.

Carry out your Lenten commitments by putting your faith into action, trusting God to guide your every step.

Blessings, Jessica

DOLLAR$&CENTS

FROM THE STEWARDSHIP COMMITTEE...

I have been asked on a number of occasions about the $188,517.39 listed in the equity account on page 34 of the 2009 Annual Report of the church.

Although it appears that we have a large amount of funds with which to work, with the exception of line 2500 ($50,229.37) in the General Fund, and line 2600 ($34,680.18) in the Capital Improvement Fund, a significant amount ($82,586.39) of these funds are in 'restricted funds, and can only be used for those purposes for which it was given. In addition, $21,021.45 is reserved to help fund the 2010 budget. The purpose for sharing this information is to help you understand our true financial picture and not be tempted into a false sense of financial security based on numbers that 'look good'. The balances in Calvary's accounts truly ARE a blessing to our congregation and should be something we are very grateful for, but we should also be aware of their specific purposes and relationship to our overall operating budget and financial health.

Should you have any questions concerning this information, contact me or Chris Williamson.

Ted Hughes, Chair, Stewardship Committee

CHILDREN'S SERMON GUIDELINES

The Worship Committee has these suggestions for those giving Children's Sermons on Sunday mornings:

1. Keep it short. The attention span of pre-schoolers is not much more than a minute or two, even under the best conditions.
2. Keep it simple. A pre-schooler cannot handle multiple thoughts well. Better to make one point well than confuse them with two or three. A single point can be well made in that minute or two.
3. Avoid bribery. Toys and candy are appealing to tots, but should not be the focus or the reason for them to anticipate this time. Please insure that there is an underlying reason for presenting a gift.

The best Children's Sermons, like the adult versions, are those which leave them thinking about themselves, their actions toward others, and their relationship with God.

MISSION COMMITTEE NEWS

The Presbytery of Wabash Valley Indiana

What does it mean to do God's mission in the world? What does transformational ministry look like? What is God calling us to be and do? These and similar questions are at the heart of the work and dialogue shaping the mission of the Presbytery of Wabash Valley during the journey toward a new future.

At the beginning of every meeting, Presbyters are invited and urged to ask these questions. They challenge one another in Council and Presbytery Assemblies with them as well. This had helped form the content of the Presbytery Wide Congregational Officer-Leadership Development Event. The congregations have responded with cooperative church officer education, a combined Easter cantata, joint Lenten soup suppers, combined summer worship services, inter-congregational youth mission trips, pastor support groups and monthly interim ministry gatherings. Such natural disasters as a tornado and three floods in eleven counties have taught Wabash Valley Presbyterians they do not exist in isolations. The Presbytery in cooperation with Presbyterian Disaster Assistance, was able to respond to each of these disasters with immediate financial support. Through these tragic events the Presbytery has come together to pray and contribute time, money, and people to help those desperately in need. This is a testimony to their connectionalism both locally and nationally. Core groups throughout the Presbytery are exploring how they intentionally covenant to partner with other congregations in a spectrum of shared ministries. Geneva Center Camp and conference Center's new executive director brings a new vision for the way sacred space and radical hospitality nourish the church in its transformational journey. Geneva Center, the location of the Presbytery Office, offers a central location for meetings. Along with Peabody Retirement Community in North Manchester, as of July 2009 there are 12,974 members in the 88 congregations of the Presbytery.

THANK YOU

Dave and Paula Lamb wish to thank the church for their care and concern during their recent family's death. It was greatly appreciated.

The Lamb family

Dear Church family,

Lois Shafer would like to thank the prayer shawl knitters and crocheters for the lovely gift she recently received. She uses it everyday to wrap herself up in to keep warm. She says she is recovering slowly. She is doing physical therapy and occupational therapy but doesn't know what job they are getting her ready for next. Keep her in your prayers as she heals. She would love to have visitors at the McKinney House.

The Shafer family

To the Members of Calvary Presbyterian Church,

The family of Peggy Lamb thanks you for your kind expression of sympathy.

Thank you for all the cards, thoughts, and prayers. The church meant so much to my mom, and we appreciate all who expressed their sympathy. Thank you, Doug and Carolyn, for a beautiful service. Also, our thanks for the meal and those who helped. We are blessed to have a great church family.

FOR MARCH, IT IS ABOUT VOLUNTEERING

As I write, we are covered with snow and watching some of the coldest weather of the year settling in, but what I am writing about is working outdoors in the spring weather we will see in just about 6 weeks. Volunteers make the Plant Sale happen. Volunteers working together pot up most of the plants, take care of them, haul them to the church, staff the sale Mother’s Day weekend, and clean up afterwards.

The first rounds of work are the April weekends where we dig and pot up plants. There will be two, probably the second weekend and the fourth. There will be lunch.

If you want to volunteer to work with us, please get in touch with the church office, Mary Kay Baar, or me personally, Jonathan Justice, at 574/722-2237.

And, A Little Note about What We Do with the Money

The Presbyterian Women spent the money from last year's Plant Sale on sending kids to camp at Geneva Center and helping the Logansport Schools make sure that kids who need help are getting enough to eat. We will very likely spend this year's money in similar ways, but the bigger picture is that PW at Calvary has been responding flexibly to local needs. You can help, and get some wonderful plants too.
