"Life and Death" Genesis 35

| v. 1 | Q. What was the command given to Jacob?                              |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|------|--|-----------------------------------|--------------------------|------------------------|--|--|--|--|--|
|      | A.   |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      |  | 1.                                | Go to                    |                 |  |  |  |  |  |
|      |  | 2.                                | there                    |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      |  | 3.                                | Build an                 | _ (place of worship)   |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | Note: This is the first time God anyone to bui                       |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | altar to Him. All the others were a and voluntary                    |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | resp   | response to a divine interaction. |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | Note: Bethel was mentioned three times before this (House of God).   |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | Genesis 12:8 – pitches his tent between Bethel (Luz) and Ai.         |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | Genesis 18:19 – Jacob has his first encounter with God and sets up a |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | (Jacob's ladder dream).  |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | Genesis 31:13 – Jacob has his second encounter with God (Paddan      |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | Aram) where God identifies himself as the God of Bethel in a         |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | and calls him to go home.  |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | Note: Notice that the relational connection with God is tied to a    |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      |  |                                   | : fleeing                | from his brother Esau. |  |  |  |  |  |
| v. 2 | Q.   | Who                               | at did Jacob ask his hou | sehold to do?          |  |  |  |  |  |
|      | A.   |                                   |                          |                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|      |  | 1                                 | Cet rid of your          | ands                   |  |  |  |  |  |

| Note: This i  | s the first time that a is being made   |    |
|---------------|---|----|
| oetween th    | ne one true God and false/foreign gods.   |    |
| Note: These   | e gods could be:  |    |
| a.            | Those that came with them from  |    |
|               | (Rachel and the saddle bag; Laban's   |    |
|               | household gods)   |    |
| b.            | Those that were acquired during the recent  |    |
|               | of Shechem.   |    |
| C.            |   |    |
| 2.            | yourselves  |    |
| ideaanoii | : This is the first time this action is prescribed but we have no outside of external sources or later citations (Ex. 29:36 – nted with oil; Lev. 8:15 – anointed with blood) to understand was involved. It may have simply been a |    |
|               | with water.   |    |
| 3.            | your clothes.   |    |
| Note          | : Since the prior two were connected to,  |    |
| there         | is speculation that this, too, was connected with it.   |    |
| Rash          | i comments, "lest you have in your possession a that has been employed in idolatrous worship  | ." |
| (Ger          | esis Rabbah 81:3).  |    |

| v. 3. | Q.   | t else does Jacob say to his family?                            |   |  |  |  |  |
|-------|--|---|---|--|--|--|--|
|       | Α.   | 1.  | We're moving to   |  |  |  |  |
|       |  | 2.  | Where I'm going to establish a place of   |  |  |  |  |
|       |  | 3.  | Jacob testifies to his family that this "God" is the one who  when you cry out to him and never |  |  |  |  |
|       |  |   | you (even though at times it might feel that way).  |  |  |  |  |
| v. 4  | Q. What did Jacob do with the idols and those things associated with it (cp. Exodus 32:2-4). |   |   |  |  |  |  |
|       | A.   | He_   | e them under a tree.  |  |  |  |  |
|       | Note: The modern Erz Chayyim Torah (The Tree of Life Commentary on                           |   |   |  |  |  |  |
|       | the Torah), explains that these artifacts were no pieces o                                   |   |   |  |  |  |  |
|       | jewelry, but more likely (something endowed with   |   |   |  |  |  |  |
|       | magical powers from a witch or warlock) that were adorned with pagan                         |   |   |  |  |  |  |
|       |  |   | uitively senses that the continued presence of these gods is                                    |  |  |  |  |
|       | 3 0, 0   |   | with the new life he has found in Yahweh. The   |  |  |  |  |
|       | whole incident must be read as an illustration of Jacob's religious                          |   |   |  |  |  |  |
|       |  |   | " (Hamilton; Prager 412)  |  |  |  |  |
| v. 5  | Q.   | Who   | at happens and what is its significance? (Cp. 32:1)   |  |  |  |  |
|       | A as is assumed in 3   |   |   |  |  |  |  |
|       |  | and negotiated in 28:20-22 at this very same place years before |   |  |  |  |  |
|       |  |   | lder dream).  |  |  |  |  |

| vv. 6-7 Q  | . Jacob arrives and what does he do?                               |  |  |  |  |  |
|------------|--|--|--|--|--|--|
| Α.         | Jacob builds an altar and calls it                                 |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | It could also mean, "God is in the house of God" or "God's         |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | Presence has itself in the house of God. The latter                |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | has strength given that Jacob uses that particular language.       |  |  |  |  |  |
| v. 8 Q.    | What life event happens? Significance?                             |  |  |  |  |  |
| A.         | Rebekah's died (part of her entourage) . It is the                 |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | last connection with Paddan Aram.                                  |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | Rashi tells us that says Deborah was sent by                       |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | Rebekah to go to her fathers to bring Jacob back home, i.e., "I'll |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | send word for you to come back from there," (Gen. 27:45). There is |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | no support for this.   |  |  |  |  |  |
| vv. 9 – 10 | Q. What does God do?   |  |  |  |  |  |
| Α.         | v. 9 God to Jacob again (dream or                                  |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | Christophany? Cp. v. 13, "went up from him").                      |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | Chilistopharty & Cp. v. 10, World op Homman J.                     |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | GodJacob.  |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | v. 10 God Jacob (again). Cp. 32:28                                 |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | Note: Once again it is a reminder for Jacob to live in his new     |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | and not in the past. In the past you were a                        |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | "," but now you are one who struggled with                         |  |  |  |  |  |
|            | God and won ().  |  |  |  |  |  |
|            |  |  |  |  |  |  |

|             | vv. 1             | 1-12 God re      | stated the        | command and the                 |  |  |
|-------------|-------------------|------------------|-------------------|---------------------------------|--|--|
|             |                   |                  | promise (a        | people, a global influence, and |  |  |
|             | a specific land). |                  |                   |                                 |  |  |
|             | v. 13             | God, once        | again,            | Jacob.                          |  |  |
| vv. 14-15 ( | Q. Hov            | w did Jacob      | respond? What is  | meant by each?                  |  |  |
| Α.          |                   |                  |                   |                                 |  |  |
|             | v. 14             | Jacob sets       | up a stone        |                                 |  |  |
|             |                   | This will fund   | ction as a        |                                 |  |  |
|             |                   | remembra         | nce/reminder.     |                                 |  |  |
|             |                   | Jacob pou        | ırs out a drink   | on it.                          |  |  |
|             |                   | This functio     | ns as a visible   |                                 |  |  |
|             |                   | s the first reco | ording of someone | e doing this act of             |  |  |
|             | v. 14             | Jacob poui       | rs on it          |                                 |  |  |
|             |                   | ignifies a sac   |                   | or consecration (setting it     |  |  |
|             | •                 | •                | this the          | time. Cp. 28:18.                |  |  |
| vv. 16-20 ( | Q. Who            | at life event l  | happened?         |                                 |  |  |
| Α.          | 1.                | The              | of Rachel         |                                 |  |  |
|             |                   |                  |                   |                                 |  |  |
|             | 2.                | The              | of Benjam         | nin.                            |  |  |
|             | 3.                | The              | of Rachel         |                                 |  |  |

|             | Note                            | : She is not buried in the family tomb in                          |  |  |  |
|-------------|---------------------------------|--|--|--|--|
|             | 4.                              | Jacob sets up a stone over her burial                              |  |  |  |
|             |                                 | place (in what is now).  |  |  |  |
|             | •                               | hrase "to this day" implies that this was still erect and          |  |  |  |
|             |                                 | during the time Moses was writing this account.                    |  |  |  |
| Cp. 2       | Z:14; z                         | 26:33; 32:32.  |  |  |  |
| Note        | : Isaac                         | does not permit the child to grow upwith                           |  |  |  |
| the ic      | dea of                          | mourning but declares a name over him: "Son of                     |  |  |  |
| my rig      | ght ha                          | nd."   |  |  |  |
|             |                                 |  |  |  |  |
| Note        | : Rashi                         | says that it could also mean, "Son of the" since                   |  |  |  |
| he w        | as the                          | only one born in this region.                                      |  |  |  |
|             |                                 |  |  |  |  |
| Q.          | Reac                            | I Matthew 2:16-18. How do we understand this in light of this age? |  |  |  |
| Α.          | The re                          | eference is to Rachel being here:                                  |  |  |  |
| / \. | 1110 1                          |  |  |  |  |
|             | 1.                              | Observing the during the Babylonian captivity,                     |  |  |  |
|             |                                 | i.e., Jeremiah.  |  |  |  |
|             | 2.                              | Observing the of the "innocents"                                   |  |  |  |
|             |                                 | connected with her own   |  |  |  |
|             |                                 |  |  |  |  |
| Q.          | Where did Israel go from there? |  |  |  |  |
| A.          |                                 |  |  |  |  |
| Note        | : "Migo                         | dal Eder" means ""   |  |  |  |
|             |                                 | e a reference to the "pillar" where Rachel was buried.             |  |  |  |

v. 21

| v. 22  | Q.           | What cultural/moral violation took place?                    |                      |              |               |                      |  |
|--------|--------------|--|----------------------|--------------|---------------|----------------------|--|
|        | A.           |  | ob'sob's         |              | t with Rachel | 's handmaid, Bilhah, |  |
|        | Q.           | . What is actually going on here?                            |                      |              |               |                      |  |
|        | Α.           | 1  | This is not abou     | .4           | but payar     |                      |  |
|        |              | 1.2.   | This is not abou     |              | •             | _ empowerment but    |  |
|        |              | ۷.   | THIS WAS HOT AL      |              |               | _ empowerment bot    |  |
|        |              | 3.   |                      |              |               | in his father's      |  |
|        |              | 0.   | nose so he wo        |              |               |                      |  |
|        |              | Note   | e on Rashi.          |              |               |                      |  |
|        |              |  |                      |              |               |                      |  |
|        | Q.           | What does the text say about Jacob?                          |                      |              |               |                      |  |
|        | A.           |  |                      |              |               |                      |  |
|        |              |  |                      |              |               |                      |  |
|        | Q.           | What would be the consequences of such behavior? Cp. 49:3-4. |                      |              |               |                      |  |
|        | Α.           | Jacob him at a time when he was blessing others a            |                      |              |               |                      |  |
|        |              | the end of his life.   |                      |              |               |                      |  |
|        |              |  |                      |              |               |                      |  |
| vv. 23 | 3-26         | Q. Wł  | hat is the reason    | for the revi | ∋wş           |                      |  |
|        | Α.           |  |                      |              |               |                      |  |
|        | , . . | 1.   | To establish a v     | written      |               | ·                    |  |
|        |              | 2.   | To establish the     | e future     |               | per their            |  |
|        |              |  |                      |              |               |                      |  |
|        |              |  |                      |              |               |                      |  |
| vv. 27 | 7-29         | Q. Wh  | nat is the life ever | nt that happ | oens?         |                      |  |

Α.

|                  |   | 1.   | Jacob went to                                    | his father in H     | lebron presumably |  |  |  |  |  |
|------------------|---|--|--|---------------------|-------------------|--|--|--|--|--|
|                  |   |  | because of failing health [family burial place]. |                     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |
|                  |   | 2.   | Isaac was [very old].                            |                     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |
|                  |   | 3.   | Isaac  |                     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |
|                  |   | 4.   | Esau and Jacob                                   |                     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |
|                  | Note: Not reading too much into thisthe Torah places Esau in the mentioned sons as well as his presence to his father. A dual sign of given how the Bible otherwise portrays him. |  |  |                     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |
| AppQ. | lication  |  |  | derstand lacob?     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |
| Q.               |   | How does this quote help us to understand Jacob?                                     |  |                     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |
|                  |   | Gratitude must be constantly fed, unlike resentment, which lives and ows naturally." |  |                     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |
| A.               |   |  |  |                     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |
| Q.A.         |   | t do thern tim   | ne family requirements irnes?                | n coming to worship | teach us in our   |  |  |  |  |  |
|                  | 1.  | Gett   | ing rid of foreign gods.                         |                     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |
|                  | 2.  | Purify   | ving ourselves.                                  |                     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |
|                  | 3.  | Chai   | nging our clothes.                               |                     |                   |  |  |  |  |  |

- 4. Building and altar
- Q. Why do we constantly need to be reminded of our identity in Christ?

A.